SPEED

Not content with the many discoveries that have been made by science during the last few years, they are now trying to find a way to make men grow faster, or in fact have already discovered it, if the following news items of Universal Service can be accepted at its face value.

According to this item, the day is not far distant when a full grown person will be developed in about one fourth of the time now required.

"In this age of speed, science is demanding an acceleration of growth in animals and Dame Nature has complied with astonishing results, it was revealed today.

Rats, thousands of them, have been used in the experiments, Thomas B. Osborne of New Haven and Lafayette B. Mendel of Yale University, declared before the National Academy of Science annual meeting.

A male rat, which formerly required 94 days to grow from 60 to 200 grams, can now achieve the same growth in but 25 days, it was stated.

Who knows but what in future the cows and the chickens on the farm will grow with almost unbelievable rapidity scientists asked. Applied to growth would cut childhood's happy hours nearly three-fourths.

The rat experiments have been conducted for the past 15 years with the same laboratory stock, it was stated. Diet and environment have produced the results. Year by year, a faster growing breed of rat was secured. Their size however, did not materially increase although frequently larger than the average, the scientists stated.

Another remarkable scientific revelation, by Christine Ladd-Franklin of New York, was that all nerves when stimulated shine by their own light.

When a band of red light is thrown upon a screen in a darkened room, big slightly reddish blue areas on either side of the band are seen, it was stated. What the person really looks at, however, are the fibres of his optic nerve which lie on the surface of the retina of the eye. Stimulated by the band of red light they become luminous. One actually sees his own nerve currents.

A curious experiment with sun flowers, showing changes of structure, was explained by Erwin F. Smith, of the bureau of plant industry of the Department of Agriculture.

Among the exhibits attracting unusual attention today was a delicate machine to measure the stresses of steel. Even the pressure of the hand on a bar of steel can be plainly seen by looking into the instrument.

Mrs. J. H. Coleman and Mrs. F. W. Bentley, 418 Golden Gate avenue, returned from a motor trip to southern points, yesterday.

PRESIDENT MAY SIGN U. S. W. V. PENSION BILL

Spanish War Veterans Will Receive Additional Pensions if Bill is Signed

(By Universal Service)
WASHINGTON, April 28.—Despite President Coolidge's insistent demand for economy, a feeling that he may sign the new Spanish War Veterans' pension bill trickled through official sources today following a final appeal made to him by Colonel Arthur A. Thompson, national commander of the United Spanish War Veterans.

At the close of a White House conference, Colonel Thompson said, "The President is anxious to sign the bill. He is convinced that the Veterans of the Spanish War, the Philippine Insurrection and the Chinese Rebellion are not so well provided for as the Veterans of other wars. He is looking about for means of financing the bill."

The new pension system, it is estimated, would provide a maximum yearly cost of $18,000,000 in excess of the pensions now paid. Under its terms, any Veteran who had served at least ninety days would be entitled to a disability pension of from $20 to $50 a month, apportioned to the length of his service. Monthly pensions would be automatically provided when the Veterans reached these ages: sixty-two years, $20; sixty-eight years, $30; seventy-two years, $40; and seventy-five years, $50.

Nurses, including the famous old "contract nurses," would receive similar pensions. The widow of a Veteran would receive $30 a month, provided she was married to the Veteran prior to September, 1922. For each dependent child, a pension of $6 a month is provided, as now. The maximum pensions are now $30 a month.

Prior to the arrival of Thompson at the White House, President Coolidge gave another breakfast to a party of Congressional leaders, whom he urged to pare all future appropriations to the bone.

MANY SIGN FOR TRAINING CAMP

About eight applications for the Citizen's Military Training camp have been received by E. M. Downer at the Mechanic's bank, who has charge of the enrollment from Richmond. According to Downer a large percentage of these boys attended the camps last year.

About fourteen boys from Richmond attended the camps last year and a larger number are planning to go this time. The camp at Del Monte for infantry, field artillery, signal corps and howitzer work will start on June 27 and end on July 26. The camp at Fort Winfield Scott will start on June 27 and end July 26. At this camp coast artillery work will be studied.

There are four courses for the boys who will enter, the basic course, the blue course, red course and the white course.

The basic course is open to all boys between the ages of 17 to 24; the red course, 17 to 25; white course, 18 to 28 and the blue course 19-31. Vaccination against typhoid, small pox and a certificate of good moral character are demanded before enrollment.

The candidates will be vaccinated by doctors in the town or some part in the county where they enter their applications.

Transportation to and from the camp is provided for by the government in addition to uniforms, arms, food, clothing and laundry will be free.

All Richmond boys who wish to enroll are asked to get in touch with E. M. Downer at the Mechanic's bank or call Richmond 21—the Merchant's Association.

Jack Redcloud is shown adding another to his collection of tattooed biblical scenes and figures. His body is so nearly covered with brilliantly colored tattoos that he decided, when he visited "Texas" Bob Wicks' tattooing "parlor" in the Bowery, New York, to make use of some available space on his bald spot.

Hero Saves Four As One Drowns in Bay Crash Here

The heroic efforts of one man saved the lives of five men when the Associated Oil tanker G. Drumm crashed into the Shell Oil company's barge Martinez off Angel Island in a heavy fog yesterday morning, resulting in the death of one man. J. Coakley, ship's painter on the barge, drowned when he was hurled into the water by the impact of the collision and is believed to have been struck by the floating wreckage.

Passengers on the the Richmond San Francisco ferry were witnesses to the collision and according to Adolph Winters of Richmond who was one of the witnesses the tanker crashed into the barge amidship. He stated that the ferry did not go to the aid of the stricken men because ships from the bay were already coming to their rescue.

Clarence McGrath, at the wheel of the barge, saved the lives of five men. He saw that the crash was inevitable and left the wheel to warn the other men who were below deck. When the men were thrown into the water by the impact of the collision, McGrath succeeded in clinging to a piece of floating wreckage and grabbed one of the struggling men in the water, and held him until he was able to grasp another of his companions. A human chain was thus formed and the men were saved from death.

Those rescued by McGrath's presence of mind are: Captain W. Z. Brinker, N. J. McMillan, Jorgensen Robertson and Francisco Palinas, the cook.

The barge Martinez was on its way to the lower bay from the Martinez refinery when struck by the tanker bound for the Avon refinery off Red Rock in San Pablo bay near Winehaven.

The tanker sent out distress signals as soon as the collision occurred and a Red Stack tug from Point Richmond put out to the rescue.

For a time it was feared that the tanker would sink so badly was it damaged by the force of the impact. She was nosed into shore by the captain, W. Z. Haskins, and was temporarily beached.

The Bill, sponsored by Senator Copeland of New York, which was made the basis of the measure ordered favorably reported, would apply to both bituminous and anthracite mines.

FINAL RITES ARE HELD FOR BLAST VICTIMS

The plant of the Giant Power works will resume operations today having been closed since the explosion, which rocked the Bay regions last Monday and in which four men working in the dynamite packing plant lost their lives.

The inquest, scheduled to have been held last night by Coroner Charles Donnelly, was postponed until a future date, because of the funerals of the four men who were held yesterday from the Wilson and Kratzer funeral chapel.

Father Joseph Porta officiated at the funerals of Dominic Decourten and Joe Robak at the church of St. Paul in San Pablo. Services for Decourten were held at 9 o'clock and services for Robak were conducted at 2 o'clock p. m. Both were interred in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Following the service for Harry Trask last night at 7 o'clock, the remains were shipped to Pueblo, Colo., for interment. Services were in charge of the Pinole lodge of Odd Fellows, of which Trask was a member.

Rev. H. I. Oberholzer officiated at the final rites for Robert E. Gerathy which were conducted in the Wilson and Kratzer chapel last night at 8 o'clock. The remains will be cremated today in the Berkeley crematory.

Teachers Companion Indicted Under Mann Act by Grand Jury

(By Universal Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., April 28.—William A. Ritter, arrested here last week and sentenced to jail with Miss Florence Herold, pretty 25-year-old former school teacher of Hot Springs, Ark., for vagrancy, today was taken before the Federal Grand Jury and indicted for violation of the Mann Act.

He was charged with transporting Miss Herold through seven states. Miss Herold did not learn until after she was ordered to jail that Ritter has a wife and child at Laraby, Texas. In court she pleaded to be allowed to marry him, saying she loved him.

CHICAGO SEEKS SLAYERS OF STATE OFFICIAL

Gunmen Mow Down Assistant States Attorney and His Two Companions

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, April 28.—William McGwigin, assistant state's attorney, was assassinated early today, but the authorities tonight were unable to say what was the motive for the crime. Thomas Duffy and James J. Doherty were also slain. They were McGwigin's companions. They were mowed down by machine gun and pistol fire while driving an automobile through Cleary, Chicago suburb noted as headquarters for long been running gangs.

McGwigin was known as the "hanging prosecutor," he was bold and ambitious. He was the star on State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe's staff.

Crowe insisted tonight he would send to the gallows the men who killed his assistant. But no clew had been found that would start the slayers on their way to the death march.

A coroner's jury was organized and began its investigation late today. The jury is composed of prominent business men.

When the authorities appeared most anxious to learn tonight was what McGwigin was doing in Cleary, known as the "bad lands," at a late hour with Duffy and Doherty. Doherty and Duffy were politicians and Doherty was said to have been identified with a strong beer running gang.

A fourth man—the man who drove McGwigin's car—was hunted feverishly today. He is believed to have been Myles O'Donnell, alleged beer gang leader.

Capt. John Stege, assistant chief of Detectives, after working on the case more than eighteen hours, expressed the belief that the actual slayers were New York gunmen, imported here for the recent primary elections.

There are two rival beer gangs. (Continued on Page 8)

Baldwin Wood Commits Suicide

(By Universal Service)
SAN JOSE, Cal., April 28.—Baldwin Wood, prominent San Francisco clubman, was found dead in a rooming house here today. A victim of gas asphyxiation.

Wood was identified by Thomas Hume, better known as "Coffee Tom", proprietor of a lunch counter who had known Wood for 16 years.

Hume said that Wood had been eating his meals at his lunch counter for the past ten days. Hume did not see Wood yesterday or last night, he told Coroner Amos Williams.

"Wood told me," said Hume, "that he intended to return to San Francisco and re-establish his law offices. He hoped to be given the chance to make a living and repay those whose money he had lost."

Hume told Coroner Williams that he believed the issuance of two warrants in San Francisco, charging embezzlement, had caused Wood to decide upon suicide.

The sum of $15.50 was found in Wood's wallet. This is believed was the last of the $450,000 fortune Wood is alleged to have squandered.

Wood destroyed marks of identification in his clothing and also cards, and pieces of paper in his pockets. Wood was found lying on a bed with a gas tube in his mouth. The tube was connected to a gas jet.

Criminals to Be Chased by Airplanes Soon

(By Universal Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 28.—Plans for chasing California criminals by airplanes and wave lengths developed here today when Clarence S. Merrill, chief of the State Bureau of Criminal Identification announced he proposed to establish airplane service for emergency work in big crime cases and a radio broadcasting station to flash information on criminals from his bureau to police authorities in the fifty-eight counties.

The airplane service will be used solely by the criminal identification bureau and highway law enforcement branch of the State Motor Vehicle department, Merrill said. A pilot for the state plane has already been tentatively arranged for in Lieutenant Edward V. Pettis, Reserve Corps flyer and inspector for the Motor Vehicle department.

"I believe that this step will place California first in the union in equipment for state aid to the police in curbing criminal activities," said Merrill.

The airplane and radio project will be financed either through co-operative arrangements with county and municipal governments or through state appropriation, according to the plan announced by Merrill.

SCHOOL ROW IN SAN PABLO IS CLEARED UP

Oil was poured on the troubled waters of the San Pablo school board Tuesday afternoon by County Superintendent of Schools W. H. Hanlon, who met with the school board in a specially convened session for the purpose of disentangling the recent investigation brought against a member of the board.

Last week charges against Lawrence Silva, clerk of the board, were filed in a complaint presented to the board of trustees at a special meeting. After hearing the charges, the board decided to refer the matter to the county superintendent of schools. The meeting held Tuesday was for the purpose of discussing the charges and straightening out the difficulties.

As a result of the conference all sides are satisfied and Silva remains in office as clerk. The new board of the school goes into office May 1 and at that time is required to elect a clerk.

County Board of Realtors Hold Record Meeting at Inn Here and Plan Events

One of the most enthusiastic meetings in its history was held last night by the Contra Costa Board of Realtors at the El Nido Inn with president E. B. Bull presiding.

A report which was submitted at the meeting showed that the board now has a total membership of 31 which indicates an increase of more than 300 per cent since the first of this year.

This remarkable increase in the association according to Bull is a good barometer of the times and an indicator that the real estate men of this city and entire county are looking forward to one of the greatest areas of prosperity which this section has ever enjoyed.

Martinez reported 215 members in attendance at the second semester of the special instruction which is being given to the realtors and those who expect to take up the work. Richmond reported twenty taking the classwork in the second semester of the course.

All of the members of the organization were instructed to use the word "realtor" in all of their advertising in the future and to place a sign bearing the word in a conspicuous place in their offices. The national headquarters in issuing the instructions pointed

Combine Home and Schools Says Gwinn

San Francisco School Superintendent Talks Here on Modern Education

"In educating our children, it ought to be difficult to find out where the home leaves off and the school begins in the beginning of the school work and it ought to be difficult to find where the school leaves off and business begins in the end of school work."

So stated Joseph Marr Gwinn, Superintendent of schools of San Francisco in his address delivered at the Roosevelt Junior high school last night in the Educational Week program sponsored by the Masonic Lodges of Richmond.

Superintendent Gwinn called the attention of the large crowd present to the changes in methods of education in the schools today as compared with the system in vogue twenty to forty years ago and laid the reasons for the changes to a better understanding of the child mind.

"One of the mistakes we had was that all children are equal," he declared. "We believed that all children were alike and that

President Favors Crime Commission

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Recognizing "the great increase" in the number of crimes of violence in our large cities," President Coolidge, tonight endorsed the plan of a national crime commission to establish state crime commissions throughout the nation instead of attacking the problems of suppressing lawlessness through a federal agency. Where state legislatures fail to establish such commissions the national organization would establish commissions of private citizens.

Electrolier and Cars Damaged When Car Runs Amuck

PITTSBURGH, April 28.—Three automobiles were damaged and an electrolier was wrecked when a car driven by Mrs. Ida Jefferson, a Riverside negro, ran amuck here. Mrs. Jefferson was not arrested.

According to the police Mrs. Jefferson first ripped a fender from a car belonging to H. F. Reynolds of Martinez and then careened to the curb and onto the sidewalk. Excited, Mrs. Jefferson drove the car on the sidewalk for a full block and then swerved to the street, knocking down a $70 electrolier. Before she could halt her car she smashed a wheel and fender of a car owned by W. G. Houlihan and had sideswiped a small truck.

Mrs. Jefferson agreed to pay all damages.

ATTEMPT MADE TO ASSASSINATE GEORGE VERGNE

Shooting Believed to be Part of Moulders War Which Is Now Raging

An attempt to kill George Vergne, 3759 Florida avenue, a moulder at the Pullman Shops here, was made at 9:55 last night with his would-be assassins firing at him from a speeding automobile with a high powered rifle and then making their getaway in the heavy traffic along Cutting and San Pablo avenues.

Vergne had left his home and gone to milk a goat in the vicinity of his residence when the car carrying the gunmen came along Thirty-second street slowing down as it neared Vergne.

One of the men in the car raised a rifle to his shoulder as the automobile passed Vergne and fired, the automobile then speeding toward Cutting boulevard.

Julius Gaylord father-in-law of Vergne and Louis Gaylord his brother-in-law living at the same address heard the shot and immediately rushed to Vergne's assistance, but the gunmen had fled. Police were at a loss last night to account for the shooting, but are convinced that it is part of the Moulder's war, which has been raging between Moulder's of the San Francisco Bay region for some time. Several persons have been killed and many have been injured in shooting and slugging affairs which have grown out of the fight.

Vergne when questioned last night was unable to account for the incident and told officers that he knew of no one who might attempt to or wish to attempt to take his life.

WHO BENEFITTED MOST?

American newspaper correspondents abroad, and American travelers returning from Europe are almost unanimous in stating that at present citizens of the United States are none too popular in European countries, principally because of Uncle Sam's business-like policy in insisting that our foreign debt be liquidated in the interest of the world's credit and the American taxpayer.

There is every indication that another drive for cancellation of debts is under way and that the effort will be made to have the world believe that the United States is the only country to benefit from the war, that all other nations lost. Even Mr. Churchill, Great Britain's chancellor of the exchequer is quoted as saying that Uncle Sam is getting all of the reparations.

It is a little difficult for the average American to see just how the United States was more greatly benefitted than other nations by the war. We had our lists of dead and wounded, and we have our increased taxes which we will not be permitted to forget for many a year.

We received no indemnity, either in land or money, and all that we ask is that our foreign debts be paid up to reasonable capacity. But let us see how the allies shared in the post-war adjustments. Germany claims to have paid $11,400,000,000 in money and material in the way of indemnity to the allies since the war ended. The allies claim they have only received a little more than three billion. The eight billion difference is a little error in arithmetic on one side or the other. American experts if asked for an impartial opinion would probably fix the sum at more than three billion and less than eleven. At any rate it is not a sum to be sneezed at.

And in addition to this indemnity there were some real estate transactions. France got Alsace-Lorraine and the use of the Sarre. Great Britain, Belgium and France got Togoland, Kamerun, Southwest Africa and German East Africa. England, Australia and New Zealand got the German islands in the Pacific. Poland got a slice of East Prussia, Italy got a slice of Austria and somebody got Shantung.

None of the other spoils went to the United States either in building lots or money. Evidently Uncle Sam didn't get it all.

RUBBER IN PHILIPPINES

General Leonard A. Wood said in a recent statement: "I am perfectly confident that rubber can be successfully grown in the Philippines as cocoanuts and will greatly benefit the people. There is no reason to believe Philippine farmers cannot grow it as profitably and successfully as the natives of Sumatra and Borneo."

It would be a fine thing if Uncle Sam could develop his own rubber plantations in the Philippines and so protect us from the great rubber monopoly. But if rubber can be grown, there with profit to the natives themselves and to America, this will furnish another reason to a great many of our professional shouters, why the Filipinos should be given their freedom at once.

For there are a great many people, thinking themselves good citizens, who seem to consider it a crime for Americans to succeed anywhere, especially when their doing well will conflict with the interests of some European nation. They don't want to see the

Some Pages from American History

WASHINGTON AT VALLEY FORGE

The great victory of Saratoga filled the land with joy, but the winter which followed was a terrible one. General Howe and his men spent the winter living in luxury in Philadelphia. But Washington's men, stricken with putrid fever, were dying on the frozen hillsides of Valley Forge. They were sick, discouraged and dying before the good news could reach them that the French king would aid America.

England, alarmed at the action France had taken on our behalf, offered us peace, representation in parliament—anything, but independence. But since it was independence that we were fighting for, the offer was rejected.

General Howe resigned in the winter. His brother, Lord Howe, resigned the next summer. The British, fearing the approaching French fleet, now abandoned Philadelphia and started for New York. Fifteen thousand of the British forces went by land across New Jersey. With about the same number Washington followed them up sharply. A battle was fought at Monmouth. It ended in a victory for the Americans and was the last battle of note fought on northern soil. The British forces returned to New York and the region thereabouts. Washington stretched them day and night.

The following summer and autumn horrible Indian massacres were committed by ferocious Iroquois led by Tory captains. Towns along the coast were attacked and burned to ashes. But no great battle was fought.

Captain George Rogers Clark of Virginia by his bravery, drove the British out of Illinois and later from Indiana, thus securing to the United States that immense Western region.

The British were beginning to lose their grip on America.

LESSON IN HOME DRESSMAKING

Costume Slip with Plaits at the Sides to Provide Fullness Without Apparent Width

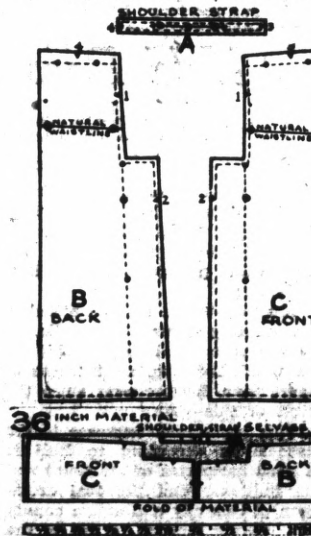

THE costume slip requires a certain amount of fullness to be comfortable as well as serviceable, although it is worn under the straight and very narrow frocks of the season. This model meets every demand of fashion, for it is slim of line and yet provides the necessary fullness for comfort by the use of plaits at the sides. It is easy to make and requires only 2½ yards 36-inch material. If ribbon is used for the shoulder straps, ¼ yard will be needed.

The front and the back of the slip are cut along the lengthwise fold of material, as shown in the cutting guide. If alterations are required they should be made before cutting the material. The number of each step corresponds with the number of the notch or perforation to which it refers. It is, therefore, necessary to mark all notches carefully, using chalk or tailor's tacks for the purpose.

In making the slip, the underarm seam is first closed. Then close the seam of extensions on front and back. Form an inverted plait, creasing on lines of medium perforations and being folded edges together over the underarm seam. Baste and press plaits, then stitch along the folded edges as far down as the large perforations, and across the upper edges. Hem the upper edge of the slip and insert a narrow ribbon or elastic.

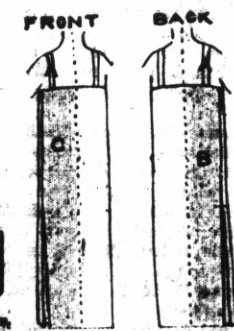

Finish by adding the shoulder straps, the ends being sewed underneath the hem at the upper edge of the slip.

CELERIAC

Celeriac (pronounced see-ler-ick) is so named because it tastes a great deal like celery. Unlike celery, however, the root and not the stalk is edible. Cool weather, moisture and a firm, rich soil are required for its best growth. The roots are pulled in October and may be stored away in soil or ashes in a cool place for six months. To cook, peel, quarter and put in boiling salted water. When tender they may be used in salads like celery, or sliced and pickled like beets. Or they may be sliced raw and fried in butter till nearly brown, like eggplant.

Why Girls Go Back Home

CATHARINE BRODY

Copyright 1926 by Warner Bros. Pictures Inc.

"Why Girls Go Back Home" with Patsy Ruth Miller is a Warner production from this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Marie Downey misinterprets the kisses of Clifford Dudley, an actor, as a proposal. He ruthlessly "frames" her to get rid of her, but the notoriety "makes" Marie's stage fame. She quickly rises to stardom. The scandalous story gets into her home town papers. John, her former sweetheart, writes that he believes in her and wants to marry her. But Marie, tasting success, puts him off—then for three years, with her chum Sally, lives the gay pampered life of a New York star.

At this point Sally threw up her hands and the letter fell to the floor.

"Well, I give up," she said solemnly. "I wouldn't believe it if I saw it with my own eyes."

"Sometimes I don't believe it myself," said Marie. "Sometimes I feel I have to back and look at it and convince myself. But then I remember how I was when I came here—"

"Yes, you were a sap," interrupted Sally.

Marie smiled.

"I was a nice kid, though, wasn't I, Sally?"

"Well, what are you now? Why, you're not yet twenty. That reminds me—"

"I know, but I feel so old, so grown up, so—so—"

"Oh, shut up, you baby. Wait till you're over thirty like me—and I'm not saying, you notice, how much

CHAPTER X

There was another person who thought of Marie Downey suddenly these days. Clifford Dudley, having struck one of those unfortunate snags of the theatre, a " flop," for the first time in several years, found the time long till his manager and producer chose a suitable new play.

He spent a good deal of the time watching professionally the performances of other actors and actresses, which was but poor consolation. He found them all very boring and could hardly see the reason for their popularity.

This morning, as he lay in bed, he was thinking idly of the show he had gone to last night for the special purpose of finding out what was putting little Marie Downey over with such tremendous speed. It had taken Clifford ten years to rise from the ranks of the chorus men. And here was a country chit, grown as they make 'em, taking her place by the side of the stars in less than a third of the time.

Somehow, since the day when he had walked coldly out of her apartment, followed by Sam and his wife, Clifford had never met Marie. Partly this was due to the fact of common friends, who still remembered to think, "Well, if we're asking Marie, we'd better not ask Clifford," or vice versa. Partly it was due to his own annoyance at her sudden rise which caused him to cross the street, when, very occasionally, he happened to see her, and to leave a night club, where sometimes he had glimpses of her. He had never till last night watched her work till he had seen her.

A rotten show! He thought. A pretty rotten show! The things these managers handed the public was a crime. These rural musical comedies, where the grass comes under the stage hands was, oh, so green, and the chorus girls wore gingham fashioned by Fifth Avenue modistes, gave him a pain. As for Marie Downey, he was as far as ever from knowing what had put her over. Cute, of course, but there were a dozen chorus girls in the show just as cute. She couldn't act. She hadn't much of a voice. Obviously, her dancing had its limits. And yet she could make even him spend some minutes of his valuable day thinking about her.

"Of course," Clifford said to himself, "I made her. Those spreads in the papers, tying her up with me. She climbed up by me."

Almost, Clifford reflected, as if she had been his wife and were shining in his glory. This made him feel a little better. He picked up the morning paper and turned to the theatrical news. Yes, there was again, her picture. "Marie Downey is not afraid to announce that she has a birthday today."

Clifford counted on his fingers. No more than twenty. He was thirty. It was a singular little smile played about his lips. She had been so head-over-heels in love with him!

Noose-neurosis Is New Disease Declares Doctor

(By Universal Service)
OAKLAND, Cal., April 28.—"Noose-neurosis" was a new medical term given to the world today at the opening session of the fifty-fifth annual convention of the California State medical association by Dr. Joseph Catton of San Francisco, speaking before the Neuro-psychiatry section.

"Noose-neurosis" is a functional nervous affection precipitated in a predisposed individual by an impending legal execution, according to Dr. Catton.

"The Hangman's Noose," Dr. Catton explained, "is in certain cases, the new one, precipitating, exciting, proximate cause in development of neurosis."

Analyzing the condition of mind of a man about to be executed and warning against accepting the symptoms of the prisoner as indicative of insanity, Dr. Catton said:

"Predisposed factors have been present over a number of years—the stresses incident to commission of crime, arrest, trial, prison and the rest—have each and all of them been previously experienced. But with no neurosis production. 'Then comes the verdict: guilty of murder,' the sentence of death and the apparently inevitable execution. This last factor determines the upset—hence the term, 'noose-neurosis.'"

"This neurosis may be made up of hysterical, neurasthenic, hypochondriac and other symptoms. 'Among contributors to the development of this disease picture are the legal administrative delays between passing of sentence and the execution, and the repeated conscious or unconscious suggestions of attorneys, physicians and others which aid or produce malingering and neurotic symptoms. 'It is my judgment that noose-neurosis may be cured fairly promptly by the sole therapy of commutation of sentence.'"

Frank Spire, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Spire, 671 Fifth street left for Jerome, Arizona yesterday to take up his duties in the post office there.

State Aid to be Requested in Fishermen Strike

PITTSBURG, April 28.—An appeal will be sent to B. B. Florence, state market exchange director, to act as mediator in the fishermen's strike following the denying of state increases for the Sacramento River Fishermen's Union by the Fish companies.

Whether or not Florence, who fish officials declare is empowered to set minimum and maximum prices for fish, will be successful in ending the strike is problematical.

"THE GORILLA" IS COMING TO OAKLAND HOUSE

"The Gorilla," the latest and funniest of mystery plays, packed with laughs and crammed full with thrills, comes to the 12th Street Theatre, Oakland, next Sunday night May 2, direct from a four weeks record breaking run at the Alcazar Theatre, San Francisco.

Henry Duffie is sending to Oakland every member of the splendid cast that has entertained capacity audiences at the Alcazar during the last month as well as the entire Alcazar orchestra.

"It outbats 'The Bat' and outcrafs 'The Cat,' is the way one of the Eastern critics described this offering, which enjoyed extended engagements in New York, Chicago and London, and proved a riotous success on tour.

Two sap detectives, Mr. Mulligan and Mrs. Garrity, the most amusing characters seen on the stage in years, create most of the merriment in the piece. They are at the center of all the mirthmaking and their efforts to capture the gorilla, who has been terrorizing an ordinarily peaceful neighborhood, are described as ludicrous in the extreme. "The Gorilla" is said to contain all of the strange and surprising elements one would expect from a mystery play as well as a chilling, gripping suspense, exciting episodes and laughter of an explosive, side-splashing sort.

William Davidson and Francis Franke are said to be exceedingly comical as the sleuths; Frank Warren, well known in Oakland, has another comedy role that of a negro servant; Betty Lawrence is clever as a girl around whom much of the mystery centers and the company includes: Edward Lynch, Pergus Reddie, Harry Leonard, Allen Connor, Norvell Thompson, Robert Palmer and Galt Bell. Thomas Ewald is the orchestra conductor.

PONY EXPRESS PLEASES MANY AT RICHMOND

If the sensational enthusiasm of those who witnessed the local premiere of James Cruze's mighty Paramount western, "The Pony Express," at the Richmond Theatre last night, may be accepted as a criterion, then the directorial wizard, Robert Flinn, and his "Covered Wagon" has produced another epic screen masterpiece.

"The Pony Express" has the historical realism and majestic sweep that distinguished its famous predecessor, but it is more colorful a spectacle and more thrilling a romance than the picture of Emerson Hough's great novel. And well it might be. For in all the glorious history of America, no chapter sizzles with such exciting, picturesque and momentous events as that which deals with those feverish, restless days, early in 1860, when the dark clouds of the Civil War were swiftly but surely gathering on the horizon, and the dazed riders of the Pony Express were in the hey-day of their glory.

Not only so, but the picture gives a graphic, unforgettable picture of the stirring achievements of these rugged heroes who established the first active communication between the East and the West, but with their terrific hardships, dangerous escapes and glorious victories, a dramatic background, he has deftly interwoven an irresistibly appealing love-plot that lends a softening influence to the dynamic action.

To say that the characterization fully measure up to the greatness of the story is to pay a well-deserved tribute to the wholly delightful performance of Betty Compton as the heroine, to the histrionic ability and two-faced manliness of Ricardo Cortez in the role of the fearless pony express rider, to the artistry of Ernest Torrence whose portrayal of the eccentric religious fanatic is a memorable piece of acting; to the versatility of Wallace Berry, who adds to his laurels by playing a happy-go-lucky vagabond with a rollicking Chaplinesque touch; and to the host of minor players who acquit themselves with distinction.

City Manager Roy A. Watkins explained the circumstances of the fire official's arrest to the board of trustees and asked that action be taken, but so far no action has been taken by the board. It is not known whether or not Maestretti will continue in his official capacity.

Plans Progress For Parade of Youngsters Here

The children of Richmond are digging out of the basement the doll buggy that some fond daddy bought for Christmas and are searching for decorations to enliven their carriage for entrance in the doll buggy parade to be staged by the Better Business committee of the Merchant's association under the direction of Miss M. M. Jensen, on May 8.

Wilson Smith, the artist, who is in the employment of Ward McCracken, has volunteered to draw large buggy posters with all the necessary instructions printed upon them to be placed in the newspaper offices.

Several changes have been made in the tentative plans for this event. The age limit for the children entering has been changed from 4 years to 8 to from 5 years to 10. No children of the members of the Association will be allowed to enter this event.

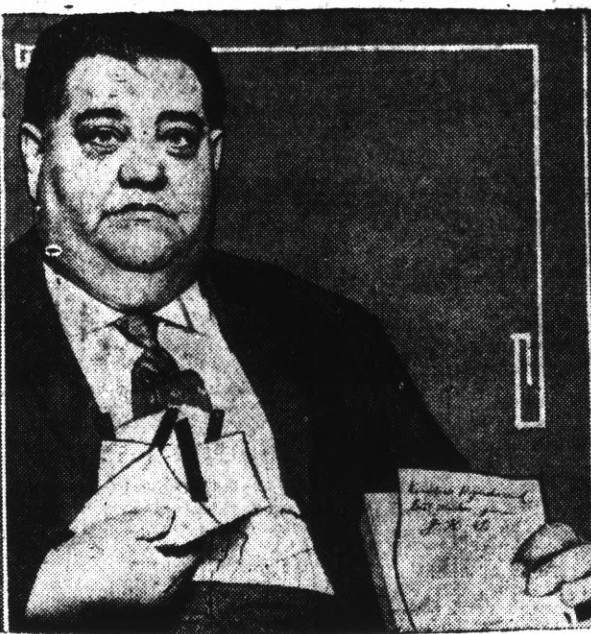

Permission has been received from City Manager J. A. McVittie to hold the parade. The line of march will be from Fifth street to Tenth street and then to the Memorial hall.

Miss Evelyn Renwick and Miss Matilda Meyers will assist Miss Jensen in arranging for the event and Fire Chief Cooper and Chief of Police Dan Cox have agreed to help as marshals of the parade. Full co-operation of the schools has been assured by Miss Nora Ashfield.

Besides the newspaper offices the following stores will receive applications:

Buffalo Jailor with Hacksaw Blades Mailed to Whittemore, Bank Bandit, Charged with Murder

Jailor Charles Leib is shown holding the hacksaw blades which he found in a box of stationery addressed to Richard Reese Whittemore, the "Kandy Kid" bandit leader. Whittemore is held in Buffalo on a dawning trial on a charge of murdering two messengers in the Bank of Buffalo hold-up last October.

Motor Accidents Take Toll of 3,807 in State

SACRAMENTO, April 28.—The red trail of the speed crazed and criminally careless automobile driver was traced in records of the division of motor vehicles today and found to have claimed 3,807 killed or maimed victims in California during the first three months of 1926.

Three hundred and sixty-seven drivers, gambled with death and lost for this number is shown to have been killed during the period.

The division's records represent the first attempt ever made to take stock of all accidents in which persons were injured as well as killed and reveal the astonishing fact that 1,138 persons were seriously injured during this short period while 2,302 others received injuries of a more or less serious nature.

Ninety percent of the accidents could have been avoided if proper precautions had been taken, according to Will H. Marsh, the division chief. More than one-half of the accidents occurred at intersections.

The records were compiled from charts recently installed by the division showing the location and character of accidents in each county.

Of the total of 367 fatal accidents eighty-two occurred in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Educational Week Is Observed at San Pablo School

Educational Week at the San Pablo school is being observed by special exhibits prepared by the pupils under the supervision of the teachers. Parents of the children are urged to visit the school and to inspect the exhibits which include specimens of the class room work and specially prepared books and pamphlets.

The pupils of the first grades under Mrs. Jacks and Miss Hartford have prepared an exhibit of silhouettes, sewing, cards, plastic modeling, and silent reading pamphlets.

The store exhibit of the Pupils of Mrs. Sieman occupies a conspicuous place among the exhibits. Shelves loaded with canned goods, sacks of beans, walnuts and potatoes, and cereals forms the store where the pupils buy and sell with school money and thereby get practical instruction in arithmetic. Other specimens of this class include spelling, silent reading cards illustrated and manual training work consisting of tool chests, a fern box and fly swatters.

Health posters, specimens of composition and arithmetic and animal booklets containing stories prepared by the pupils of Miss Crowley feature the exhibit of the third grade.

The health posters, lanterns and candy baskets prepared by the pupils of the fourth grade under the supervision of Miss Oliver are especially praiseworthy.

A relief map of Europe and Asia has been prepared in plastic by the fifth grade pupils of Miss Bernard. Geography booklets on the countries studied by this class have been assembled from articles extracted from magazines. These are used in the class room to supplement the geographical studies. Health posters and daffodil posters complete the exhibit.

Unusually good work is shown in the maps prepared by the seventh grade pupils of Miss Burgess.

The Hiawatha silhouettes prepared by the pupils of Miss Domes in charge of the seventh grade occupy a striking position among the exhibits and have received official praise from those who have viewed them because of the exceptionally good work done by the pupils.

A Dutch village has also been entered by this grade which is studying Holland in its geography class. Booklets on Evangeline and The Legend of Sleepy Hollow complete the exhibit of the seventh grade pupils.

Health posters and wall paper designs in free hand work feature the display prepared by the eighth grade pupils of Miss Hopkins and Mr. Rutherford. The pupils of this class study California and have prepared booklets on the Mission, travel, scenes and geography of the state.

The sewing class of the sixth and seventh grades, under the supervision of Miss Hopkins, have prepared a sewing display showing the progress made in sewing from the first simple stitches to a finished dress of hand and machine work.

The teachers are anxious for the parents and all others interested to visit the school, so that they can become familiar with the work done by the various pupils.

Real Estate Transfers Here

Deeds filed at Martiney yesterday revealed three large property deals involving large acres of land near here.

The Pacific Sulphur Company and A. W. Paulson transferred eleven acres of land north of Richmond to the San Francisco Sulphur company. The company declared no building project is in view.

The Berkeley Marine View Properties Inc. have deeded to the Central Company 22 1-2 acres of land north of the Gates and Bernald quarry in El Cerrito for a consideration of $15,000.

Eight acres in El Cerrito were transferred from Annie White Maybeck to Lucy Ward Stebbins, dean of women of the University of California, for a sum of $17,500.

Chamber Favors Improvement of Local Waterfront

Favoring the dredging of the harbor to a depth of thirty feet and a re-survey of the harbor, the board of directors of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce yesterday passed a resolution that this matter be presented to the proper authorities. The harbor committee composed of Councilman E. J. Garrard and O. R. Ludewig reported of the feasibility of the plan and the necessary steps to be taken to secure these improvements at the harbor. According to the report, a survey of the harbor will take several years and the directors are anxious to get the plan started.

Another meeting between the Parr Terminal company and the directors to discuss further details of the proposed harbor lease, is scheduled to be held next Tuesday, according to P. M. Sanford, president of the chamber.

The recent conference in Oakland with Captain F. T. Chambers, a member of the board of engineers of the rivers and harbors department, was reported by O. R. Ludewig.

A substantial balance in the treasury of the Chamber of Commerce was reported by Miss Helen Kingsbury, acting secretary of the organization.

Cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce in the erection of a memorial fountain in Memorial park was requested in a letter from the War Mothers and referred to the finance committee.

Council Holds Secret Session On Wharf Lease

Opposition to the proposed leasing of the harbor to the Parr Terminal company of Oakland, under a fifty-year lease contract, was voiced by V. O. Lawrence, Oakland wharf operator, who appeared before the council Monday night.

The matter was not discussed at the open council meeting, but was handled at a secret "committee" meeting prior to the regular session of the council.

No decision on the proposed lease with the Parr Terminal company has been reached by the council, but City Attorney T. A. Carlson is preparing a possible lease with the company with the view to leasing the Richmond Terminal company's wharf.

It is alleged that the Parr company has secured tentative leases on waterfront property and plans of developing these properties in the event that they secure a lease to the harbor wharf.

You Need More Bile

You need it if you suffer constipation. Bile floods the bowels, keeps them open.

You need it for results of impure blood. Germs in the intestines breed those poisons. Bile is the antiseptic which combats those germs.

You need it for bowel indigestion, for bile is a digestant. To get more bile you must stimulate the liver. Cathartics never do that. But a gland secretion, derived from beef livers, does. And physicians are prescribing this new help to millions.

That secretion is embodied in Dioxol tablets. The results come quickly—in a few hours. To countless people they are bringing priceless benefits today.

Patterns of Progress

AN AMERICAN home—its bathtub, breakfast foods, furnace—set down in the heart of Europe would be unmistakably an American home. An American man—the cut of his coat, the tie of his tie, the comb of his hair—walking the streets of Europe is in all his obvious tastes an American.

Advertisements stamp American homes and owners of homes with a kind of national pattern. They create desire for the same kind of things; make particular people know and want the most advanced of things. Homes—what to put in homes. People—how to dress, nourish, entertain the people. Offices—how to equip and operate offices. They set America right about radios and talcums—tell businessmen, housewives, government officials how to brush their teeth!

We cut the pattern of our personal lives and surroundings from advertisements. We keep modern only with their intimate help. We go forward with them, as we would stand still without them. We form our tastes and discriminate values by using their truths. Advertisements offer us patterns of progress that mean quick steps to the fore.

Keep pace with progress by reading the advertisements every day

LONGFORD AND BRYANT IN NET BATTLE HERE

Seldom has a match ever been fought on the Richmond tennis courts as the battle staged last night between C. Bryant and Vern Langford, top-notchers of the Richmond Tennis Club. At the end of two hours' play the winner was undecided and with the sets at one each, the two were forced to call it quits because of darkness. Bryant annexed the first set by a score of 6-3. Langford started with a rush in the second set to lead by a score of 3 love, but Bryant made an uphill battle to tie, 2 all.

The second set went to Langford by a score of 9-7 and much credit is due him for his fighting spirit in never admitting defeat, although the score stood many times in his opponent's favor.

Langford's steady playing kept Bryant at his best and when the two finished their match tonight some nerve racking rallies will keep the spectators on their feet. The winner of tonight's set will win the match and hot contest is expected. A. S. Remell umpired the match last night.

American League To Bar Resin

(By Universal Service)
NEW YORK, April 28.—Although the American League will comply with the rules of organized baseball by making it compulsory for the umpires to carry a bag of resin with them on the field it will forbid the pitchers to ask for the resin to use on the ball.

The league took this position on the much disputed resin issue at a special meeting held here this afternoon, when a resolution was passed making it compulsory for umpires to carry a bag of powdered resin but forbidding the pitchers to ask for it.

SWIMMING

Nine girls have entered the 220 free style race for junior women to be staged at Idora Park on Sunday by the Pacific association. According to the officials the races on Sunday will be one of the most keenly contested events ever staged at the Idora open pool.

The Fleishhacker club of San Francisco has the largest entry in the event to date, and many more entries are expected.

HOFF

Charlie Hoff, world's champion pole vaulting arrived at Seattle on Tuesday night to enter the carnival that will be staged by the University of Washington on Saturday. He left immediately for the stadium to practice under artificial lights. It is said that he has been drilling intensively in an effort to break his world's record of 18 feet, 11 and 15-16 inches for the pole vault.

TROJANS

There are morning at the bar—or rather at the University of Southern California now. Fourteen varsity track men will graduate this year and unless enough freshmen turns out and show their stuff the Trojans will lose the intercollegiate track championship.

A JUVENILE

Pa: How old is that lamp?
Ma: Why, we've had it three years.
Pa: Turn it down then. It's too young to smoke.

Chronic Catarrh Relieved
Reading
Elmhurst,
April 9, 1926.
During all my life I had suffered from Catarrh, more or less. A few months ago it became so bad that my eyes and head ached terribly and I could not hear well in either ear. Although I tried many treatments and doctors, I got no benefit whatever. I was told that I must have an operation for Adenoids and Tonsils. Fortunately, however, instead I came to the Fong Wan Herb Co. for treatment. After two weeks all my complaints were gone. I have nowhere else found remedies comparable with the Fong Wan Herb Co.

Gall Bladder Troubles Gone!
To Whom It May Concern:
For over a year I had trouble in my gall bladder, pain on my right side, vomiting and a general run-down condition. On February 23rd of this year I had an attack of appendicitis, the pain of which was so severe that I could not sleep at night. I came to see the Chew & Chew Herbs and after taking one dose of herbs I was greatly relieved.
I continued to take the herbs for a few more weeks, and I am all well now. March 14, 1926.
